

...vivant terroir wine from small lovely vineyards

Our vines are located in Leistadt, a village close to Bad Dürkheim, perched high on the hillside, on the edge of the Palatine Forest. The village has never been land consolidated and we farm very small vineyards here. On 2,5 hectares we grow our wines organically and we stick to the varieties that are typical for our region like Riesling, Sylvaner, Traminer and Portugieser.

Our potential lies in our vineyards.

The Kalkoven is the vineyard next to our house and south of the Bernvalley. Here we grow most of our Sylvaner. The Kirchenpeace where our Riesling grows is situated north of the Berntal and is southern slope oriented. The soil in these vineyards is very limestone rich - you find true cool climate here.

Due to the small size of our winery we can pay each vineyard maximum attention and do most work with our hands. Our ten sheep support us with mowing and fertilizing and thereby increase biodiversity.

We produce wines that reflect their origin.

All grapes come from our own vineyards, are hand-picked, spontaneously fermented in our vaulted cellar(wood and stoneware) and bottled unfiltered after 12 months on the lees.

Grand Cru

Sylvaner Kalkoven

From one of Leistadts' oldest vineyards just behind our house. The Kalkoven is situated south of the Berntal on a limestone reef. Fermented in a palatinate Halbstück(600l) and old french barriques.

Riesling Kirchenpeace

Situated on the southern slope of the Berntal , this very old vineyard is characterized by a limestone-rich rocky soil. The Kirchenpeace lies north of the Berntal . It's fermented in a palatinate Halbstück(600l) and old french barriques.

VILLAGE VILLAGE

Village Blanc

The grapes come from an old mixed plantation in the Berntal, an old Riesling in the Kalkofen(Village -> Leistadt), one very rare 60-year old plot of Traminer and an old Sylvaner plot in our neighboring village Village -> Kallstadt) - all of them small treasures and beautiful places... Fermented in old french oak...

Village Rosé

Rosé of old Dornfelder in our Kalkoven. It's a free run, delicate Rosé that is fermented in stoneware and old french oak.

Village Rouge

The grapes come from a high-altitude 50-year old Portugieser vineyard on colored sandstone - served chilled. Fermented in old french oak.
